

Local and Personal

Contractor D. Long is finishing a residence for W. F. Manney south of the school house, this week.

Col. T. W. Heman will spend next week at Las Vegas attending the annual encampment of the G. A. R.

Paul Jackson is building an office for James Lanigan at the Coney Island. He is doing a very creditable piece of work.

Henry W. Smith, with the Rock Island, bought property in the McGee addition this week and will begin building right away.

We notice improvements at the M. B. Goldenburg store this week. An office is being built for the manager of the grocery department.

Mrs. H. S. Brickley, nee Miss Kittie Tait of Buffalo, N. Y., will leave here on the 20th inst. to spend the summer with homefolks.

W. F. Manney, of Jerico, Texas is a late arrival and is investing in Tucumcari property. He is just finishing a residence in the McGee Addition.

Kline, the immigration agent of the Rock Island, was here several days gathering data for a folder which the company will get out shortly.

Joe Price, the railroader, is setting an extensive orchard on his homestead. He has put out this week a total of 585 trees. He is cultivating also about 80 acres of crops.

Dr. B. F. Herring left Thursday for Chicago to take a sub-graduate course in surgery. From Chicago he will go to New York for a like purpose. Dr. Moore will take care of the practice while he is absent.

The telephone business is growing to such an extent in Tucumcari that the Exchange will cable three blocks of Main street and will add a distributing board to enable the company to take care of the lines in stormy weather. Ernest Herring has taken the place of vice-president of the company and will assist Farr Herring, the manager, in putting the city's system in good condition.

Tucumcari has about 102 degrees of base ball fever. The boys played a game Sunday which was only about three days following the organization of the club that interested about 100 spectators. The line-up was the Legal Tenders vs the Stags, which resulted in a victory for the Legal Tenders. Attorney W. J. Hittson is the manager and Farr Herring the captain of the organization. They are planning for a summer's campaign from which we may expect some glowing accounts.

Rev. J. W. Campbell has been very sick for ten days.

Geo. F. Queen is here from White Oaks attending to business matters.

J. E. Wright, the real estate man is surveying and platting a townsite at San Jon.

F. W. Loucks, a railroader on the coal branch over at San Antonio on the Rio Grande, is here this week making improvements on his homestead. He will return shortly when he will put up a couple of buildings on property here in town.

J. J. Harrison's new annex to the Glenrock is completed and doing a nice business. Both the Glenrock and the Plaza hotels have so enlarged this spring that accommodations are now very good for the traveling public and the relief is very much appreciated. They are running very creditable restaurants in connection. A hotel bar at the Glenrock is a new feature for this section of New Mexico and is highly appreciated by the hombre who is hungry and thirsty at the same time.
